

Surprise! We're back sooner than expected! (Unfortunately it also means DP is further away).

Thank you for all the lovely feedback once again.

Welcome to the Pocket Monsters Advanced Generation (Advance Generation according to the Japanese technically but let's not get into it). Featuring 135 new Pokémon, 192 anime episodes, four movies, specials, bonus content that I came across, and this pack also includes the Side Stories (Chronicles) and Miragemind of Master Pokémon or whatever it's called in English.

Thank you so much to my proofreaders, encoders, uploaders and raw providers. Would not be able to do this without you!

Once again we are asking for donations, all this goes into is our website maintenance costs. So if you enjoyed and have a little moolah to spare, please donate here: <https://seaofserenity.net>. It's massively appreciated because costs seem to get bigger and wages seem to go nowhere these days. But I'm sure you're here to avoid and hide away from any cost-of-living discourse, so on with the Advanced Generation. Though I will say the cost-of-living thing is a global issue, so please don't fall into the trap of populist governments convincing you it's just affecting you and push you into voting on some kind of nationalistic isolationist grounds, thank yewww. It's not what Yuhua Hamasaki would want.

If you need to reach me to ask questions that's satoshismom88@gmail.com, but once again a little basic respect and courtesy. Like seriously. Some of ya'll are doing too much. This is not a paid gig, it's a free service and I don't really want my life to be utterly consumed by translating a 20 year old children's TV show. I do enjoy talking, explaining choices and fixing any typos or errors is important. But for the small group of people who are kind of spamming relentlessly or sending really rude or hateful messages (again this is a 20 year old children's tv show). I will no longer be responding and you may find yourself blocked. Please remember there are real people here, I get people are excited, or they want things a certain way... But none of that warrants the sort of treatment you're inflicting.

Thank you to my proofreader, uploader and raw provider.

An update for what's new: Diamond & Pearl, every movie and special I could find and some other content up until the Horizons-era has been already translated! The rest will all come in one final pack (and we'll also look at a mega-release of all materials with any quick-fixes etc), and that will be it. I do not think I will be proceeding into BW/XY/SM/Goh. These have all got full translations, I would like to do them for my own satisfaction but I'm afraid I want to move on from this project. If I win the lottery (I would like to win the lottery) and find myself with copious amounts of free time, I will translate the rest.

Overall, I was surprised to find Advanced Generation to be far more solid than its predecessors, and I might argue it's actually in some ways the best version of the Pokémon anime. It's well-balanced, plot points are spaced out, there's lots of Pokémon feature spotlights that are interesting and unique and plenty of battles. It's helped along by the Battle Frontier really making sure the pace is fast. Haruka offers a different dynamic to other main characters featured before or after since she allows Satoshi to mentor a little and show his growth, while also having her own thing going more so than others who were more on even-footing. Though I do think as the season goes on, Haruka's use starts to dwindle. Luckily by then Harley's shown up so we're all good. As for Takeshi, well, let's be real... He was never even a player in this Pawnchessmon(black) game. I think AG gets lost in the mix of discourse for two reasons... 1) No subtitles (I think there are some horrendous AI ones at the moment (?)) and 2) The fanbase for the height of Pokemania loved the OS, and this is not the OS and the revival really kicked up moreso with DP, so AG ends up in no-one's land. Give it a chance, I think you'll enjoy it.

Also we can safely and finally agree that Birch is the hottest Professor.

This is not an attack on the OS or DP, please don't take it as such. Pokémon anime is Pokémon anime and it's all more or less cut from the same cloth. I just think AG managed to fine-tune what had come before before DP started taking a different direction, and as a fan of the "Pokémon of the day" episodes the most, that appeals to me.

Hoenn has been romanised as Houen here... Just because it's a purer translation. The double "n" doesn't really exist in the Japanese name and seems to be more for style. No biggie.

Thank you again and I hope you enjoy.

Materials List:

I don't think the episode here is as controversial or differs from other seasons. (That reminds me I accidentally left the Porygon preview out of the last pack so it's in here).

Generation III Name Origins:

252. Treecko // Kimori

From “ki” 木 (tree) [Japanese], “mori” 森 (forest) [Japanese], “mamori” 守り (guardian) [Japanese], “komori” 木守 (tree guardian) [Japanese], “yamori” 守宮 (gecko) [Japanese]

253. Grovyle // Juptile

From “ju” 樹 (tree) [Japanese] and “reptile” [English] and “raptor” [English] and possibly “juraki” (Jurassic Period) ジュラ紀 [Japanese].

254. Sceptile // Jukain

From “ju” (tree) [Japanese] and “jukai” (literally sea of trees, but refers to dense forest or abundance of leaves) 樹海 [Japanese] and possibly “juraki” (Jurassic Period) ジュラ紀 [Japanese].

255. Torchic // Achamo

From “shamo” 軍鶏 (a cockfighting breed of chicken) [Japanese], “akachan” (baby) 赤ちゃん [Japanese] and “acha” あちゃ (an exclamation for something hot) [Japanese].

256. Combusken // Wakashamo

From “wakai” 若い (young) and in particular, “wakadori” 若鶏 (young bird) [Japanese] and “shamo” 軍鶏 (a cockfighting breed of chicken) [Japanese].

257. Blaziken // Burshamo

From “burn/burst” (English) and “shamo” 軍鶏 (a cockfighting breed of chicken) [Japanese]. May also involve “baba” 婆 (old woman) or “bannen” 晩年 (later years of life) [Japanese] “in contrast to “akachan” and “wakai” above.

258. Mudkip // Mizugorou

From “mizu” 水 (water) [Japanese] and “mutsugorou” ムツゴロウ (mudskipper) [Japanese].

259. Marshtomp // Numacraw

From “numa” 沼 (swamp) [Japanese] and “crawl, a swimming stroke” [English], possibly also “claw” [English].

260. Swampert // Laglarge

From “lagoon” [English] and “large” [English].

261. Poochyena // Pochyena

From “pochi” ポチ (a default Japanese dog name) and “hyena” [English]. May also involve “petit” which is rendered “puchi” プチ in Japanese.

262. Mightyena // Grayena

From “grand”, “growl” and “hyena” [English], and possibly “grey” [English].

263. Zigzagoon // Zigzaguma

From “zigzag” [English] and “araiguma” アライグマ (raccoon), “anaguma” 穴熊 (badger) and extrapolating the suffix “-guma” from these (literally “bear”) to make a similarly named creature.

264. Linoone // Massaguma

From “massagu” まっすぐ (straight ahead) [English] and “araiguma” アライグマ (raccoon), “anaguma” 穴熊 (badger) and extrapolating the suffix “-guma” from these (literally “bear”) to make a similarly named creature.

265. Wurmple // Kemusso

From “kemushi” 毛虫 (hairy caterpillar) [Japanese] and possibly “rosso” (red) Italian [Japanese].

266. Silcoon // Karasalis

From “kara” 殻(shell) [Japanese] and “chrysalis” [English].

267. Beautifly // Agehunt

From “agehachou” アゲハチョウ (swallowtail butterfly) [Japanese] and “hunt” [English].

268. Cascoon // Mayuld

From “mayu” 繭 (cocoon) [Japanese] and “shield” [English].

269. Dustox // Dokucalc

From “dokuga” 毒蛾 (poison moth) and “scale” (as in moth scales) [English].

270. Lotad // Hasubou

From “hasu” 蓮 (lotus) [Japanese], “bou” 帽 (hat) [Japanese] and “akanbou” 赤ん坊 (baby) [Japanese].. Compare with “Tanebou” below.

271. Lombre // Hasubrero

From “hasu” 蓮 (lotus) [Japanese] and “sombbrero” (hat) [Spanish].

272. Ludicolo / Runpappa

From “runrun” ルンルン (euphoric mood) and “pappa” also connotes towards rhythmic or fanfare sounds like “paparanpappa” or “panpappa” [Japanese] and “rumba” ルンバ (a Cuban dance) and “kappa” (a Japanese river goblin).

273. Seedot // Tanebou

From “tane” 種(seed), “bou” 帽 (hat) [Japanese] and “akanbou” 赤ん坊 (baby) [Japanese].. Compare with “Hasubou” above.

274. Nuzleaf // Konohana

From “konoha” (tree leaves) 木の葉 [Japanese], “hana” はな (which can mean nose or flowers depending on the characters) [Japanese] which can combine as “kono hana” meaning “this nose” or “this flower” [Japanese],

275. Shiftry // Dirtengu

From “dirt/dirty” or “dark” [English], and “tengu” 天狗 (a long-nosed Japanese mountain goblin).

276. Tailow // Subame

From “tsubame” ツバメ (swallow) [Japanese]. May also involve “subayai” 素早い (quick), and from that compound the “su” meaning “base” or foundation”.

277. Swellow // Ohsubame

From “oo” (big) 大 [Japanese] and “tsubame” ツバメ (swallow) [Japanese]. May also involve “oosugiru” 多すぎる (too much) [Japanese].

278. Wingull // Kyamome

From “kamome” 鷗 (common gull) [Japanese]. Another word for seagull in Japanese is “umineko” 海猫, literally “sea-cat”, so the “kya” in “kyamome” may be influence by “kyatto” キャット, the Japanese rendering of “cat”.

279. Pelipper // Pelipper

From “pelican” [English] and possibly skipper, flipper or propeller [English].

280. Ralts // Ralts

Partially from “astral” (in particular, astral body) [English] and “waltz” [English], “lull” [English, the Japanese rendering would be “raru” matching rarutosu]

281. Kirlia // Kirlia

From Kirlian photography, a type of photography for capturing electrical coronal discharge which is sometimes claimed to measure aura by paranormal enthusiasts.

282. Gardevoir // Sernight

Possibly a contraction of “a mid(s)umm(er)'s (night) dream”, a play by William Shakespeare involving fairies and Grecian myth characters. May also involve a damsel in distress character asking for a “sir, knight” to rescue her, which can be interpreted as “saa naito” (come forth, knight) in Japanese.

283. Surskit // Ametama

From “amenbo” (pond skater) 水黾 [Japanese] and “ame” 雨 (rain) [Japanese]. From the first compound's reading of 水 leads us to “mizutama” 水玉 (drop of water / polka dot) [Japanese] to make “ametama”. Also involves “amedama” (candy) 飴玉, “tama” on its own 玉 means “ball” and “tamanegi” 玉ねぎ means “onion” which this Pokémon is kind of shaped like.

284. Masquerain // Amemoth

From “amenbo” (pond skater) 水黾 [Japanese] and “ame” 雨 (rain) [Japanese]. From the first compound's reading of 水 leads us to “mizutama” 水玉 (drop of water / polka dot) [Japanese] to make “ametama” and “moth” [English].

285. Shroomish // Kinokoko

From “kinoko” キノコ (mushroom) [Japanese] and “ko” 子 (child) [Japanese] and “nokonoko” のこのこ (unaware) [Japanese].

286. Breloom // Kinogassa

From “kinoko no kasa” キノコの傘 [Japanese] (pileus, literally mushroom umbrella – refers to the cap of a mushroom). Another character for “kasa” 笠 [Japanese] also referring to mushroom caps can refer to conical hats in general.

287. Slakoth // Namakero

From “namakeru” 怠ける (to be lazy) [Japanese] and “namakemono” (sloth) 樹懶 or (lazy person) 怠け者 [Japanese] and possibly “kerotto” (acting as if nothing is happening) けろっと [Japanese].

288. Vigoroth // Yarukimono

From “yaruki” やる気 (motivation) [Japanese], compare with “namakemono” (sloth) 樹懶 or (lazy person) 怠け者 [Japanese], where “namakemono” is quite literally “lazy person” to make a new word for “motivated person.

289. Slaking // Kekking

From “kekkin” 欠勤 (work absence) [Japanese] and “King Kong” [English].

290. Nincada // Tsuchinin

From “tsuchi” 土 (earth) [Japanese] and “ninja” 忍者 [Japanese].

291. Ninjask // Tekkanin

From “tekka” 鉄火 (gunfire, violent temper) [Japanese], “ninja” 忍者 [Japanese] and “tekkamen” 鉄仮面 (Japanese name for the Man in the Iron Mask).

292. Shedinja // Nukenin

From nukegara 抜け殻 (exuvia) [Japanese], “ninja” 忍者 [Japanese] and “nukenin” 抜け忍 (runaway ninja) [Japanese].

293. Whismur // Gonyonyo

From “gonyogonyo” ごにょごにょ (whisper, murmur) [English].

294. Loudred // Dogomb

From “dogou” 怒号 (angry roar) [Japanese] and “bomb” [English].

295. Exploud // Bakuong

From “bakuon” (explosion) 爆音 [Japanese] and “ongaku” 音楽 (music) [Japanese] and possibly “king” [English].

296. Makushita // Makunoshita

From “makushita” 幕下 which refers to the third highest division of sumo wrestlers. The “no” in the middle makes it sound like a sumo wrestler name.

297. Hariyama // Hariteyama

From “harite” 張り手 which refers to a sumo move where one slaps the opponent with open hands, the “yama” (usually meaning mountain), makes it sound like a sumo wrestler name.

298. Azurill // Ruriri

Derived from their evolutions Marill (Mariru) and Azumarill (Mariruri). From “mari” (ball) [Japanese], 鞠 “marui” 丸い (round) [Japanese], “marine blue” マリンブルー [English] and “ruri” 瑠璃 (lapis lazuli), found in the name of several blue animals.

299. Nosepass // Nosepass

From “nose” ノーズ and North ノース which is written very similarly to nose in Japanese), and compass [English].

300. Skitty // Eneko

From “ieneko” 家猫 (house cat) [Japanese] and “enokorogusa” 狗尾草 (green foxtail grass) [Japanese].

301. Delcatty // Enekororo

From “ieneko” イエネコ (house cat) [Japanese], “enokorogusa” 狗尾草 (green foxtail grass) and possibly “nekorogaru” 寝転がる (to lie down) [Japanese] and “Gorogoronyan” (Rumbling Meow – a children's book by Shinta Cou about cats in an aeroplane), “kokoro” 心 (heart) and “colocolo”, a name for the Pampas cat [English] which may be the evolution of the grass + cat theme from Eneko.

302. Sableye // Yamirami

From “yabunirami” (squint) やぶ藪にらみ [Japanese] “yami” (darkness) 闇 [Japanese], and “nirami” 睨み (glare) [Japanese].

303. Mawile // Kucheat

From “kuchi” 口 (mouth) [Japanese], in particular “futakuchionna” 二口女 (two-mouthed woman, a monster with a woman's form and a second mouth under her hair), “cheat” [English] and “eat” [English].

304. Aron // Kokodora
